CHALLENGE MORE THAN YOUR INTELLECT

Our rigorous instruction in core business concepts provides the acumen needed to make decisions at the highest levels of organizations. What sets us apart is a unique leadership curriculum which provides powerful experiential learning. Graduates consistently report that our programs were not only formative, but transformative for them, both personally and as leaders of others.

Seattle University's Executive programs will challenge you to reflect on your perspectives, assumptions, beliefs, and values. Using that insight, you'll shape and reshape your approach to leadership, and evolve as an individual and member of a greater community. You'll leave our programs with a deep understanding of how your influence can help promote a more just and humane world, and with the experience to guide others in doing the same.
