2021-22 Graduate Business Certificate in Risk Advisory and Assurance

Internal auditors bring immense value to their organization. They identify risks associated with achieving strategic goals and help the company mitigate those risks. In addition, internal auditors benchmark both internally and externally to implement best practices. The Internal Audit profession is experiencing a high demand for candidates coupled with a shortage of potential recruits. Our program includes an in-class internal audit practicum as well as highly recommended three month internal audit internships. Our internal audit graduates have been favorably received by Pacific Northwest Companies. Several career options include enterprise risk management, operational audit, forensic accounting, and many more.
